

The Daily Courant.

Tuesday, January 22. 1706.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated January 29.

THE Advices from Vienna of the 16th of this Month, say Letters that were come thither from the Imperial Army in Transilvania, do not confirm the Report that was spread of a 2d Action; but that they afford the following Particulars, viz.

That the Enemy being driven from their Intréchements at the Pass of Scibo, and the Imperial Army being advanc'd towards Clausenbourg, Count Lewenbourg march'd on the Left towards Boncida, with 4 Regiments of Foot, 3 of Horse, 600 Ralsians, and some Artillery, and advanc'd with his Foot to Samos Vivar, the Governour of which seem'd resolv'd to defend it, but the Artillery being come up and Batteries of Cannon and Mortars rais'd, he surrendred without firing a Shot. Count Lewenbourg put 2 Companies of the Regiment of Toller into that Place; and afterwards took Betlehem, into which he put 2 other Companies of the same Regiment. He proceeded from thence to Bistriz, the Council of which Town came out to meet him, and there he took up his Quarters with the Regiment of Salm the Artillery and Provisions. The next Day he sent out Parties to get Intelligence of the Enemy, and one of them found near Laposch several Waggons belonging to Paul Oroschi one of the Enemy's Chiefs, loaded with Powder, Tin, Bread, Meal and Oats, which they took and carry'd back with them to Bistriz, as also some Cattle. The 30th of November, he sent another Party of Ralsians towards Deesch by the Road of Betlehem, to give Chace to some Parties of the Enemy that had appear'd thereabouts to hinder the Peasants from returning to their Homes. The same Day, he caus'd the Magistrates of 17 Towns or Villages to swear Allegiance to the Emperor; and order'd the Market to be kept at Bistriz as usual; upon which the Inhabitants of the Country return'd daily to their Dwellings. All that the Parties could learn of the Enemy was, that Prince Ragotski and General Forgatsch were with 3000 Men between Nagibania and Kevat on the Frontier of Transilvania about Zarmar; that other Leaders of the Hungarians were dispers'd here and there with other Troops amounting to about 2500 Men, part of which mov'd according as Prince Ragotski did, and the rest were marching towards the Marmaros.

The last Letters from Transilvania, written the 16th of December from Hermanstad, import, That General Cusani was with a Body of Troops about Weissenbourg, General Glockelsberg about Bistriz, and General Herbeville near Clausenbourg; and that 2 Regiments were before the Castle of Deva, with some other Troops, bombarding that Place, which is defended by C.Ziacki, and is the only Town the Enemy are possess'd of in Transilvania, having surrendred Samos-Vivar, Huniad, Giergin, St. Paul, Betlehem, Clausenbourg, and Bistriz. The Transilvians complain heavily of the Hungarian Malecontents, who have left them none but Copper Money which will not go since their Defeat, having taken from them all the Gold and Silver they could find.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Jan. 30. Ausburg, Jan. 20. All the Bavarian Places are agen in the Hands of the Imperialists, and the revolted Peasants are dispers'd and beg Pardon: Whereupon the Troops of Wirtemberg are returning home.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Jan. 28. Ratibon, Jan. 21. An Express sent by Collonel Arnan to the Diet, has brought a Confirmation, that Cham capitulated the 17th Instant; it was agreed the Rebels should evacuate it the 18th by Noon; but they spun out the Time 3 Hours longer, with design to retire over the River Regen, but the Cause of their Delay being discover'd, the Hussars were sent to pursue those that were gone, and several of them were kill'd or drown'd in that River. Muller, their chief Leader, and 2 Officers he had under him were taken: And 200 Peasants that remain'd in the Town, and who had no other Arms but Clubs, were drub'd out and turn'd home, after having beg'd Pardon of Collonel Arnan, representing that they had been compell'd by the others to joyn them against their Wills.

Ratibon, Jan. 21. We have receiv'd certain Advice, that Braunau has surrendred to the Imperialists, the Burghers having before set the Imperial General Tattenbach at Liberty and made him their Goverour. General Kriechbaum took Possession of it yesterday. An Express is since arriv'd from that General, with an Account, that Collonel Hochberg with a certain Number of Men has also retaken Burghausen. The Rebels that were garrison'd in Braunau, in Number 6000 Men, are retir'd into the Wood of Burghausen, and have there intrench'd themselves, nor with design to persist in their Rebellion, but to prevent being fallen upon at unawares, and beg Mercy. So that Hostilities in Bavaria are at an End. The Priest that commanded in Cham, who took upon him the Title of Brigadier, his Deputy Governour Blaufurtuch and some other Ring-leaders that are Prisoners, will be punish'd exemplarily. To Day the Diet take into Deliberation the Letter written to them by the States General, to exhort the Empire to make timely Preparation of all things necessary for the ensuing Campaign.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Jan. 28. Brussels, Jan. 24. The Dutch Officers and Soldiers that were taken in Huy and Diest, arrive here daily from the Towns whither they had been sent. Many Soldiers are already sent to Tildemont, there to be exchang'd, and will be follow'd to morrow by 700 more: We expect 500 besides. But their Officers, who to the Number of about 100 were brought hither the 18th, are still detain'd; which they complain of as a Hardship, seeing the French Officers for whom they are exchang'd have already been set at Liberty by the Dutch. Among these Dutch Officers, are the Collonels Ripperda and Delsuperhe. Yesterday the Duke de Villeroy gave a noble Entertainment to the principal of those Officers; and 'tis said the Intendant Bagnols has receiv'd Order from the King of France, to pay Collonel Delsuperhe above 100 Louis d'Or, to make good to him the Loss he suffer'd, when the Bavarians rifled his Baggage last Summer, notwithstanding he had a Passport in his Majesty's Name, which they threw in the Dirt. The Spanish and Bavarian Officers are extremely discontented, contented, that the French Commissaries excluded out of this Exchange of Prisoners all that are not of their own Nation.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated January 30.

Hague. January 28. Lieutenant General Hompesch is gone for England, and General Noyelles is preparing to follow him. The Marquis d'Allegre, who is likewise to go over thither, continues indispos'd. To Day Cavalier the Camisar was with some of the States Deputies. To Day we receiv'd the good News, that the Rebellion in Bavaria is quell'd, the Peasants having laid down their Arms, yielded up all the Places they had taken, and beg'd Pardon. Letters from the Frontiers say the Elector of Bavaria was gone to Mechlen from Brussels, to hold a Council of War with the Governours of the adjacent Places whom he had sent for thither, with what Design is not known. The Officers that were here, are almost all return'd to their respective Garrisons by Order from the States.
